

Your Hands are Lovely...

But if you didn't decontaminate them then you need to assume that they are capable of transmitting pathogens.

Even if your hands look and feel clean never touch a patient without first decontaminating your hands with an alcohol hand rub or antimicrobial soap.